Hi, Mike. I had to leave the office to take care of a family matter and am not near a phone; do you mind sending me an e-mail with your questions regarding the Southlake invoices?

I have a feeling you may be a little confused by the overage calculation, the sales overage adjustment (which is really minimum rent) and then the total amount due on the invoice which is actually the percentage rent amount that is due. Basically, the percentage rent balance plus the sales overage adjustment equals the overage calculation amount listed in our claim.

Let me know if this helps. Thank you. ~D
