Jay:

This will confirm our earlier email exchange wherein we agreed that AA has and my deliver to you all of the documents they have gathered to date, subject to our agreement that you will not disclose them to anyone until the Court enters the Protective Order currently under discussion between the parties, and we have had a chance to determine if we believe any of such documents should be designated as confidential.

Best regards,
Mike

Mike - Per my 7/16/11 email, will you please authorize Russ to send the documents. You may "reply all" to this email. I think that will work.

Regards,

Jay

Jay,

I got your VM. As long as Quebecor authorizes release of the documents I don't have a problem providing them to you. Please let me know of any updates on this issue.

Mike and Russ -

Russ is holding certain responsive documents at Debtors' request as "confidential." Mike, you and I discussed this yesterday, so I am following up asking you to authorize Russ to release the documents to me, which I will hold in confidence pending our near completion of the confidentiality agreement with the Debtors. Mike, will you authorize Russ to release the records, and, if so, will you please reply to us both with your permission. Any questions from anyone, please call. Thanks, Mike for your consideration in this matter
